

WorkCover

MEDIA ALERT

Workers, businesses and the economy poised to benefit from new workplace health service

3 October 2014

With the launch of Get Healthy at Work, the NSW Government has put healthy workplaces on the agenda of every small, medium and large organisation in the State.

On Wednesday 8 October 2014, industry and business leaders will gather in Sydney for a special briefing hosted by WorkCover NSW and NSW Health. At the event they will learn how this important new service will improve the health of workers, enhance the competitiveness of NSW businesses and deliver long-term benefits to the State's economy.

Safety, Return to Work and Support CEO Vivek Bhatia will provide an opening address, outlining the benefits offered by the service. Transport company TNT Australia, a participant in the Get Healthy at Work pilot program, will share its experience implementing the program and contribute to a panel discussion. The panel discussion will be hosted by businessman and former Wallaby, Nick Farr-Jones AM.

Media will have an opportunity to interview Get Healthy at Work spokespeople at the conclusion of the presentation.

- What: Get Healthy at Work Industry Briefing
- Where: Steve Waugh Room, Sydney Cricket Ground
Moore Park, NSW
- When : Wednesday 8th October 2014
9:30am Registrations, tea and coffee
10:00am Presentation commences
11:30am Presentation concludes; morning tea
- Contact: Guests: please RSVP here <http://bit.ly/GHAWrsvp>
Media: Please indicate if you will be attending by email mediaunit@workcover.nsw.gov.au

Get Healthy at Work is a NSW Government initiative offering businesses all the tools, resources and support they need to address risk factors for chronic disease in the workplace. The free service also includes a confidential Brief Health Check to help workers better understand their risk of developing heart disease and type 2 diabetes.

ends

WorkCover Media Unit: 02 4321 5474 or 0413 186 799

WorkCover Assistance Service 13 10 50
workcover.nsw.gov.au

WORK SAFE HOME SAFE